We are long-time policyholders/members of Blue Cross. We object to any of the sales price going to the described "foundation". The purposes of the "foundation" are admittedly vague, unrelated to Blue Cross' mission of providing health insurance to those who paid for it, the "advisory board" will be paid large unnecessary salaries(non-profit board or advisory board members should be volunteers), and it can involve itself in politics. All of the price should be paid to the members, or to several similar non-profit alternatives as chosen by the members.
